

18th March 2020, Press release about a new musical instrument by Polyend.

The Polyend Tracker reboots retro form factor of software past with forward-looking functionality as world's first hardware tracker

Olsztyn, Poland: famed for bringing new technologies to creative musicians by building innovative and unique musical instruments, Polyend is proud to announce availability of Tracker — effectively extracting the best bits of yesteryear's tricky tracker software classics and rebooting them with forward-looking functionality as the world's first hardware tracker, deftly designed as an easy-to-use compact standalone workstation with immediacy and simplicity at its creative core, and aiding artists with forging unique avenues of sonic construction to boot — starting from today...

Polyend Tracker official website link

Polyend Tracker full press note link

Polyend Press Kit 2020 including Tracker photos and logotypes link